Art Unit: 1614

Claims 13, 14, 19-22, 25, 26, 31, 33 and 35-37 are presented for examination.

Applicants' request for continued examination, amendment and response filed September 26, 2008 have been received and entered.

Claims 14, 19-22 and 26 are withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to the non-elected invention (37 CFR 1.142(b)).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 13, 25, 33, 36 and 37 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 41, 43-47, 57, 59 and 60 of copending Application No. 10/555,076. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the copending application teaches a method for enhancement of adiponectin production in a warm-blooded animal with an effective amount of one or more HMG-CoA reductase inhibitor(s); and the present application teaches a method for enhancing glucose uptake into warm-blooded animal cells with an effective amount of one or more HMG-CoA reductase inhibitor(s). Note that adiponectin is a protein hormone that modulated a number of metabolic processes, including glucose regulation.

Clearly, one skilled in the art would have assumed the method of the copending application would inherently perform the instant mechanism of the present application.

Claims 13, 25, 33, 36 and 37 are not allowed.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 13, 25, 31, 33 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

This is a new matter rejection.

Applicants' specification do not support the newly amended phrase "wherein glucose uptake does not include glucose transport", and nowhere in the specification describes this "critical limitation".

Claims 13, 25, 31, 33 and 35 are not allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13, 25 and 36 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Freeman et al., Circulation of PTO-1449, of record, for reason of record as set forth in the previous Office action dated July 28, 2008 at pages 3-4 as applied to claims 13 and 25.

Applicants' remarks regarding the Freeman et al. reference's teaching the administration of pravastatin "beneficially affected glucose and insulin transport" is not the same as "enhancing glucose uptake" are not persuasive since the cited reference does teach the mechanism of producing glucose transport. It does not matter how or where the instant "mechanism" is produced, "glucose uptake" has the same characteristics of "glucose transport".

The rejection made under 35 USC 102(b) is adhered to.

Claims 13, 25 and 36 are not allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 31-35 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Freeman et al., Circulation of PTO-1449 in view of Weiner et al. (5,643,868) and further in view of Paolisso et al., European Journal of Clinical Pharmacology, Vol. 40, No. 1, pp. 27-31 (1991), all of record, for reasons of record as set forth in the previous Office action dated July 28, 2008 at pages 4-5 as applied to claims 31-35.

Applicants' remarks regarding the prior art does not teach or suggest the combination of instant active agents are not persuasive since KSR forecloses the remarks that a specific teachings, suggestion, or motivation is required to support a finding of obviousness. See the recent Board decision Ex parte Smith, --USPQ2d--, slip op at 20, (Bd., Pat. App. & Interf. June 25, 2007) (citing KSR, 82 USPQ2d at 1396).

The rejection made under 35 USC 103(a) is adhered to.

Claims 31-35 are not allowed.
